How Was Your 2020?

2020 Was One of The Best Ever Years For Many of Our Clients

'A Business Year To Remember'

The Search Engine Reality They Try To Keep Secret

'Prosper – Even During Difficult Times'

Do You Have Frustrating SEO Problems?

If you run a business either online or offline and you want to promote your business online, you have probably tried SEO or thought about using SEO to promote your business.

Many business owners end up frustrated.

SEO takes time to learn, is complex and has many different strategies. If you employ an SEO Agency it can be very expensive.

If you hate the expense, the time SEO takes, the focus SEO demands and the energy it involves, then this is for you.

Many business owners decide they need to use SEO because they need more business and want to get their business noticed by getting it to the top of the search rankings. Business owners want visibility and exposure for the services and products they provide and sell.

You may have a great offer, a professional service or some other unique selling proposition. Unless you get your business seen, your offering is not going to be successful.

Business owners often wonder where to begin and consider things like,

SEO Strategy?

SEO or Social Media Marketing?

SEO or Digital Marketing?

SEO or PPC?

SEO or Content Marketing?

SEO or SEM?

SEO or Google Ads?

SEO – What Will Your World Look Like If You Sidestep SEO?

I faced all these same questions. I wanted a way to guarantee results and that began my search for an easier way to do things.

I used to run an agency in a very competitive niche. It was in the days before online marketing became the prime way to grow a business.

I was very successful in getting my business noticed. It was the number 1 service provider in the market place that I operated in. I had a very specific strategy that I used to achieve that. I used strategic offline advertising and marketing to dominate the market place.

The only way the competition could beat me was to by me out.

In my next business, I moved online to market my business but I found things to be a lot more complex.

I found that getting my business to stand out from the crowd was really difficult.

That was why I initially did SEO. To get to the top of the search results for as many of my offerings as possible.

Standing out and getting my business at the top of the results, across multiple offers and locations was my main goal with SEO. Having a business stand out is one of the most important things that you can do.

If you don't stand out, you just end up lost in the mix with everybody else.

Without attention you do not even get out of the starting block

In a typical day, everybody is subjected to a barrage of branding efforts, sponsored social media, commercials, advertisements, and all other methods of trying to gain our attention.

If you fail to get 'attention' new business and sales are never going to happen. Every sale begins by gaining that initial attention. It may be online or offline. If you cannot gain attention and begin the conversation, your efforts are going nowhere.

I had aspirations and a desire to build my business. I wanted more quality clients. I wanted my business to grow, I wanted to take my business to the next level.

I decided that I had no other option but to learn how to stand out in the much more competitive online marketplace. I had to learn how to get more attention online, using the most powerful methods. I wanted to replicate the success I had previously achieved offline.

I employed people who professed to know what they were doing and how to get the results I wanted. I heard many promises. No one came up with the goods or the results I wanted.

As I talked with other business owners it was clear they also had the same problems. Frustration with SEO results and not being as 'well-known' as they would like to be within their business market place.

After a lot of trial and error and spending a considerable amount of money trying different approaches I finally managed to create a system that got great results and was replicable. In many respects, it mirrors the approach I had used to achieve my previous success.

I decided after speaking with other business owners that this was something that I should share. I know if others can correct their frustrating SEO problems, they will see improved results and more success in their business.

One of the things that I found in my research was that everybody seems to be doing exactly the same thing. What I mean by that is placing advertisements, doing social media, pay per click advertising, and similar types of promotion. The results were often mixed and not predictable.

How Was Your 2020?

Now, 2020 was a very difficult year for many people.

Do you know some of my clients had their best ever year in 2020?

SEO – What Will Your World Look Like If You Sidestep SEO?

Some people may be asking, how is that possible?

The Secret

What I'm going to share with you here is how to get consistent attention for your business, secure your ideal clients, and take things to the next level.

97% of Businesses Do Not Know This

The Search Engine Reality They Try To Keep Secret

You may think that you have heard of this before but I know that 97% of business owners do not use this particular strategy that I'm going to share with you here today.

Does this sound familiar?

You want to attract more clients. Maybe you want to sell more products.

You want to expand, you want more growth. You want to crank things up a notch.

Many Business Owners Approach This The Wrong Way

Many business owners do some investigation and hear that digital marketing is the way to get this done.

So, they either decide to do it themselves, or maybe even employ an expert to do it for them.

Now, this may involve trying things like social media, Facebook ads, pay per click advertising, and content publishing, and a whole list of other things as well. This can get results but I found I was not getting the results I was looking for.

Does that sound familiar to you and would you like to fix it?

What About Local Business Owners?

Have you ever wondered how some businesses seem to move ahead?

How a very limited number of your competition seem to hug or occupy all the top spots when someone is searching?

Whatever service or product you're looking for, up pop the same few local businesses.

These businesses dominate the top three spots in the money pack and the maps entries and seem to consistently appear in the top three results. They monopolise the money spots.

Now I used to think it was luck.

I know some people will say it is good SEO but everybody is doing SEO. I know business owners, including myself, that have spent a small fortune on SEO to get few or very little results, often waiting months for results to show up. Many decide to just give up.

Is SEO Old Fashioned And Outdated? Misinformation.

What I did find in my research is that there is a lot of misinformation out there.

It was not an easy task getting to the real truth.

Lots of gurus are saying all manner of things about building backlinks, publishing more content, doing social media. All these methods claim to be able to get results. I am sure some of them do but trying to get solid, predictable results, is next to impossible unless you have a multi-million pound budget.

In addition, as mentioned, it can takes months for any type of results to begin showing through. In a word, SEO is unpredictable.

Speed Not Complexity

I wanted something that could give me results a lot faster.

Like I said, I looked at all the obvious things and my conclusion was that existing solutions and strategies were all very competitive, expensive, and in many cases, very complicated.

A Little-Known Secret.

I knew I definitely needed to know the target audience that I was aiming at.

The accepted knowledge is that search engines like Google will rank a website based upon hundreds of different factors.

The only problem is that no one seems to know quite what most of these factors are, or indeed which one, or which ones are the most important.

There is a whole SEO industry built around these very points.

It's time consuming, complex and uncertain.

Accidental Discovery – Was This The Answer?

Almost by accident one day, I came across some information discussing the importance of brand.

This discussion was around how it seems that Google and other search engine seems to favour big brands in their search results. Even locally, 'local trusted brands' are favoured the most in returning results.

Why Brands?

More research revealed that Google and other search engines want to return results that are trusted. You may have heard this yourself concerning the importance that Google places upon trust. This is important to the people using the search engines. They want to know the results returned can be trusted. The search engines have decided that recognized brands carry the highest level of trust. It is the businesses with the most trusted brands that feature at the top.

So How Does A Business Get ‘Trusted Brand’ Status?

Trust is one of the major factors that will result in businesses being consistently shown in the top spots.

Now this got me thinking. In the old days, I knew that search engines used to look at the number and quality of links coming into a web site. The type of links that came into a website often determined the importance of the websites in the results.

I wondered what type of factors might be important now?

I did more research and discovered a whole number of things that influence this question of trust.

So how is the best quality of trust created to become seen as a ‘trusted brand?’

There are a number of factors.

I did find one thing that jumped out at me. It was consistent. It was across all niche types. And the answer surprised me.

It Was News.

It seems that search engines like Google are hungry, not just for content, but for content of a specific type. Content that is 'news'.

If you think about it, celebrities and big brands often get heavily featured. Why? They are recognised as news worthy. They have trust attached to their 'brand'. The result is lots of visibility and exposure.

Now, the only problem with this is that most of these celebrities and big brands have big advertising and marketing budgets.

This got me thinking.

Is There Way A Way To Do This That Is Affordable?

I wondered, is there a way to do this at a local level? A way that is affordable?

I was excited. Could this be the answer?

I quickly began testing my theory and realised that certain news and media connections were more important than others.

I drew up a number of agreements, with what I defined as the most important sites, based upon a range of quality and trust criteria. The connections I wanted needed to have two major attributes. Be an established quality brand and have a very high level of trust.

My idea was that if I could make an association with a quality trusted brand and link that back to my own business, I would see the results I was looking for.

So, I got my agreements in place with a number of sites. I ran my first test.

The results were excellent.

Almost immediately I was in top positions for a number of services related to the news I had released.

To cut a long story short, I now have thousands of connections that I have built up over time with the most trusted sites.

The strategy I use means that I can now almost guarantee to produce instant results, whenever I release new content.

- No waiting months for things to start working.
- No spending thousands in the hope that eventually I will have something happening, sometime in the future.

Do You Require Something That Is Adaptable And Flexible?

The thing is, business changes all the time.

Provided the content released meets the correct standards, I can reflect the changes I make in my business and start seeing results very quickly.

New Business Entering The Market Place Needing Quick Results?

For new businesses entering the market, gaining attention quickly can be vital to success.

If you are a new business and indeed for any type business, gaining a strong local presence first will establish your brand and presence. This will then give a great foundation, if you wish to expand nationally or even internationally.

Established Businesses Wanting to Refresh Attention Around Core Offers?

More established businesses will often need to refresh the attention around an established service or product. Maybe a new product line or new service is introduced. Instead of having to wait months to gain traction, this way will give results very quickly.

During my time doing this, I have learnt that the content I release must meet certain standards and be of a specific format.

Give them what they want. It makes sense. Follow the required standards and rules. Get my content quickly noticed and visible.

Gaining attention, visibility and exposure is like sprinkling gold dust across my content.

Who Are Ideal Customers?

The great thing is that this content gets noticed by my ideal customers.

Exactly Who Are Your Ideal Clients?

You know, the ones you really love working for?

Imagine being able to attract a steady stream of your ideal clients.

Would it make your work more enjoyable? It would, wouldn't it?

Consider this. How much is your ideal client worth to you?

All clients have a lifetime value.

For some clients, this maybe the value in one job, but often one job turns into multiple jobs or multiple purchases and repeat business.

That one client over a lifetime can be worth literally thousands of pounds to you.

Now imagine, if you got ten new clients like that, steadily over a period of time?

How much would that be worth to you?

Take a guess?

Would it help to ease some of the business pressures you might be feeling?

It would, wouldn't it?

Results Matter – Proof This Works

I will provide a couple of examples of the results that have been achieved.

I have used this exact method to get myself number one rankings as an expert for the services I provide.

One of my clients with a vinyl record business brought his business online during 2020 when he could no longer trade face to face.

Once he used the method, orders started coming in locally, then nationally and internationally for all around the world via his ecommerce online shop.

SEO – What Will Your World Look Like If You Sidestep SEO?

Below is a graph showing how a soundproofing business used this strategy and you can see the steady website traffic growth over time.

Luxury Design/Build business GMB (Google My Business) results until early November

"We broke through 100,000 views in a 30 day period.

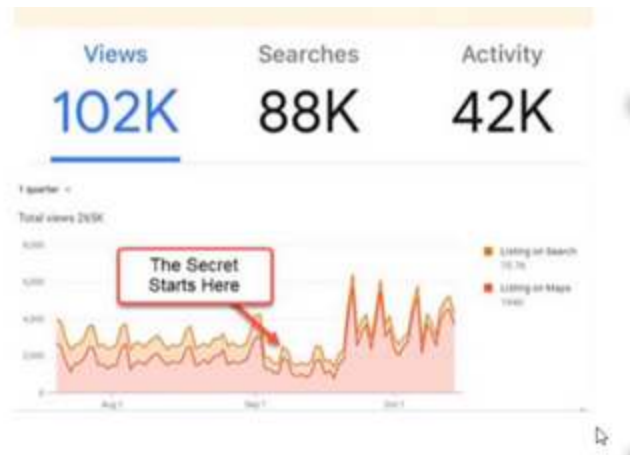

We reached almost 400,000 views from January – March.

When Covid hit, the traffic tanked to less than 10,000.

The traffic has recovered as you see in the chart to about 75,000 in past 30 days."

SEO – What Will Your World Look Like If You Sidestep SEO?

- Turned to our team to help with hyper local ads.
- Experienced major visibility and traffic for a number of keywords.
- Saw over 100,000 views for his Google maps listing

I am always really excited when I am sharing results.

At the end of the day, the only thing that truly matters are the actual results achieved.

These are just a couple of examples to show what is possible. This has worked for literally thousands of business owners across all industries and services.

I know that for whatever reason, some people do not want more growth. They do not want to go to the next level. They do not want more visitors, clients or customers. They do not wish to invest in their business or do any promotion or marketing. They are happy where they are. That is fine.

For the 3% reading this now, that recognize the opportunity and potential on offer, this is a way of breaking into the world of news and media. A way to swiftly and profitably promote your business using trusted news and media channels. This means their quality brands will be associated with your business.

Will This Work For You?

This will work for any business type.

Why Have Some Business Owners Not Discovered This?

Mistakes Business Owners Make

A big question is why this works for me and my clients but not for other businesses?

I see business owners making the same mistakes with this strategy and content type.

- 1 They do not consider this strategy and content type at all, so it can never work for them
- 2 Mis-guided thinking and having a perception that this should be 'free'
- 3 Thinking that a one-off new content item is enough to substantially move the needle over time.

While one piece of content will get results, consistency is the key in gaining omnipresence in the market place.

These things are not your fault.

It is not widely known. It is almost an unspoken secret.

A lot of big brands do know this. That is why they are big brands.

Most smaller businesses either don't understand this, do not appreciate the speed and quality results they can obtain or wrongly believe it is too expensive for their budgets.

4 Another Common Mistake – Not Knowing The Results Are Measurable

The method I have developed means that measurable results and reports are provided. This means it can easily be seen what results are being produced over time.

5 Not Knowing That A Taylor Made 'Growth Potential Plan' Is The Way To Execute

Before preparing content, a full 'Growth Potential Plan' specifically tailored for a business, means that the results obtained are those you are seeking to achieve.

6 Having A Limited View of The Type of Content That Can Be Promoted.

Any content can be promoted. Articles, reviews, interviews, video, video interviews, product reviews, product video reviews, tuition, workshops, masterminds, and a whole host of other content types.

These are just a few of the things I have successfully released content for,

- an anniversary business celebration
- an award winner
- internal beta testers needed
- a book launch
- brokerage
- a case study
- charitable donation
- company wins an award
- competitor comparison
- contest
- exhibition
- discounting of products
- service changes for existing products.
- free pre-recorded webinar,
- free reports
- a how to guide
- a new album
- a new article
- new benefits
- new case study
- new company partnership
- new events or conference
- new free training
- a new hire, in a new position
- a new launch partnership

- new music artist
- new products
- new review
- new service
- new tip sheets
- new video review
- new YouTube channel
- page reports
- products
- exit market or closing down
- product milestones or number of users
- products upgrade
- reputation management
- top listing
- upcoming webinar

and many others

7 - I Have No News?

Finding news is not difficult once you know how to angle it. You can do this yourself or get professional help. This means creating your content after assessing your business needs, ensuring it meets the strict editorial requirements and then get it published, guaranteeing your business exposure and visibility.

8 Wondering If You Will Become A Local Trusted Brand?

Yes, done correctly we have a strategy that has worked for thousands of businesses.

We have many clients who have acquired local trusted brand status. You will know because you will begin appearing, often with multiple entries at the top of results and in the coveted three pack. Consistency is the key to achieving that.

There are ways to insert your content to generate a tsunami effect. We have done this thousands of times. Content preparation and timing are important.

Improved results happen over time. Your business will gradually become omnipresent and be the local trusted brand for the services and products that you offer.

9 Wondering About This Question – ‘Can I Afford It?’

Yes, you do not need a multi-million-pound budget. This is very affordable and pays for itself.

Let’s Wrap This Up

I know that this will work for you.

The only way it will not work, is if you do not do it.

Will You Wish To Share This With Your Local Competition?

I guarantee that this is something you will not wish to share with your competition.

You will want them to believe that your dominance is simple good luck.

A comment from Stephen Wilk

'After speaking with hundreds of business owners many are not aware just how much it costs them because their business is not as 'well-known' as it should be.

The 3% who get it - they are at the top and seeing the results they deserve.

The top competition are where they are for a reason. They are better-known in the market place than everybody below them.

This means new business is attracted to them naturally. They are able to attract better quality clients. They are also able to charge more. They are able to attract better quality staff. This gives them huge advantages their competition are often not aware of'
